

Pinkomo (est. 2011) is a store located in the city center of Helsinki, Finland. We stock and sell quality items for all.

Whether it's shoes by Red Wing, blankets, denim, shirts, and jackets by Indigofera and Iron Heart, bags by Croots England, or something else, most of the products we sell are manufactured in small quantities in factories with fair working conditions in Japan, USA, and Europe.

We curate our selection carefully — for us it's always about the quality and longevity of the products. We want to offer you products that aren't available in every store. Products that will become even better with wear.

Come to visit our store in Helsinki or browse through this webstore to see what we have to offer.

You'll Meet Us At The Store

Mikko is the founder and owner of the store. As a traditionally trained cobbler and shoemaker, Mikko really knows a thing or two about shoes, as well as, other quality items that are made to last.

Tommi has been working with denim for a long time, and knows all kinds of things about well made products, from shoes to garments.
